2020

Syllabi

Niiza common

Rikkyo University

Course Title	Law 1
Instructor	Ono Yoshinori
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

(1) Purpose of class

The purpose of this lecture is to understand the essence of the Japanese Constitutional Law. Students will learn the necessary essence of the Constitution. Specifically, the aim is for the class to progress explaining the various constitutional issues, constitutional precedents, and various theories for students to understand. In addition, we will consider the development of educated university students, as well as measures for the teacher recruitment exam.

(2) Acquiring the ability to learn.

Acquisition and understanding of systematic knowledge related to the Japanese Constitutional Law (knowledge and understanding).

(3) Class objectives

The goal of this class is gaining essential knowledge of the Japanese Constitutional Law. For this, we need to understand the origins of the Constitution, and how it is enacted. In addition, what is “consensus” in interpreting the statute, and how would one interpret “correctly” to arrive at a final answer on “what is constitutional law” or “what is the Japanese Constitutional Law”? Furthermore, the aim is for students to express their own words regarding this question.

Course Contents

The class overview is, firstly, the historical development of the constitution (constitutional history, history of enactment, including the legislative process etc.), secondly, we examine Japanese Constitutional Law focusing on its three major principles: sovereignty of the people, pacifism, and respect for basic human rights, and thirdly, we will consider what influence the Japanese Constitutional Law has had on Japanese society in reality.

In addition, in the course of classes, tutors will keep language simple and maintain interactive dialogues.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.

<URL>

https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX171&syllabuslink=1

Course Title	Law 2
Instructor	Ono Yoshinori
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

(1) Purpose of class

The aim of this class is to understand the essence of law and legislature. Students will learn the necessary elements for understanding the essence of law and legislature. Specifically, class will progress outlining the various fields of law, while mixing legal issues, judicial precedents and theories for the purpose of student understanding. In addition, we will consider the development of educated university students, as well as measures for the teacher recruitment exam.

(2) Acquiring the ability to learn.

Gaining systematic knowledge of law and legislature (knowledge and understanding).

(3) Class objectives

The goal of this class is gaining essential knowledge of law. In addition, students will cultivate the ability to find what the legal issue is when conflict occurs in daily life. For this, we need to understand the origins of law, and how it is enacted. In addition, what is “consensus” in interpreting the statute, and how would one interpret “correctly” to arrive at a final answer on “what is law” or “what is study of law”? Furthermore, the aim is for students to express their own words regarding this question and acquire fundamental skills to independently proceed their study of law as needed in the future as well as to foster the legal concepts and perspectives.

Course Contents

The law is in fact familiar to us (details explored in class). Furthermore, this subject is an essential part of the introductory stage for studying criminal, civil and commercial law. This class is for students to understand the kind of influence law and legislation has in the real world.

The class will progress in according to the following “Class Plan”, and so please refer to this: In this class, as well as examining domestic laws such as public law (constitutional, penal and administrative law etc.), we will deepen our understanding of the whole of law, also outlining private law and social law (Labor Law, Social Security Law etc.) in addition to international law.

In addition, in the course of classes, tutors will keep language simple and maintain interactive dialogues.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.

<URL>

https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX172&syllabuslink=1

HX180

Course Title	Political Science
Instructor	Fujii Tatsuo
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

To acquire basic knowledge about the principles and institutions of democracy.
To be able to understand and critically examine the problems inherent in modern representative democracy.
To be able to discover various problems facing modern Japanese society and to investigate them from a political perspective.
To be able to envision the ideal society and politics.

Course Contents

Modern democracy seems to be collapsing in the face of two enemies. One enemy is populism that is rampant in Europe and the United States. It not only reveals the dysfunction of representative democracy, but it is also increasing disappointment and distrust of such democracy. The other is undemocratic authoritarian states like China and Russia. Such disappointment and distrust in the United States, Europe and other democracies are turning into expectations for authoritarian politics that denies democracy, partly because of China's growing influence in the international community. In the immediate aftermath of the Cold War, democracy seemed triumphant. But nowadays we often hear voices; "Democracy is Enough." However, because of this situation, it is necessary to review what the political concept of democracy was and what the actual situation is. Furthermore, the urgent task is to seriously consider what caused democracy to malfunction and whether it is possible to remove the causes and revive democracy. In this class, I not only explain the basic principles of democracy and the history of democracy from ancient times to the present, but also examine the problems that democracy has had from a theoretical perspective. At the same time, I will concretely discuss the problems of democracy in the context of modern Japan. This year, I especially plan to focus the influences of <<privatization>> on democracy.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX180&syllabuslink=1

HX190

Course Title	Economics
Instructor	Ishii Yuko
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The aim is to read and understand the current situation and issues in the globalizing international economy.

Course Contents

Now that the world is globalizing, it is very important to deepen our understanding of the international economy. Therefore, we will examine the basic theory of international economics, the actual situation, institutional frameworks, and various issues, focusing mainly on trade and investment, deepening our understanding of the globalizing economy.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX190&syllabuslink=1

HX200

Course Title	Business Management
Instructor	Wong Yiuwai
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Understanding the basic theory and knowledge of business management.

Course Contents

We will discuss various themes and companies during our lectures on the basic theory and framework of business management, from the perspectives we want you to examine as a student of the College of Tourism. Class format will vary depending on the number of students enrolled.
A general understanding of business management is an important skill in studying companies.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX200&syllabuslink=1

HX211

Course Title	Sociology 1
Instructor	Irie Kimiyasu
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Acquiring a comprehensive view of society. Grasping the image of sociology.
(In addition, it is preferable that ″Sociology 1″ and ″Sociology 2″ are taken in order so that lectures can advance progressively.

Course Contents

While introducing the basic concepts and thinking methods of sociology, we will gain perspectives to grasp contemporary society. “Society″ has not always been as it is now, and a history exists. We will consider modern society based on such changes in ″society″.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX211&syllabuslink=1

HX212

Course Title	Sociology 2
Instructor	Irie Kimiyasu
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

In order to grasp modern society, we will examine what kind of sociology, social thought, and social philosophical perspectives are needed.
(Note, it is preferred for students to take “Sociology 1” in advance of “Sociology 2, as the lectures progress building on each other.)

Course Contents

Lectures will progress, providing the opportunity to grasp “modern society” from the various angles necessary, using relatively new sociology and socio-philosophical methodologies. We will read and understand “contemporary society” in consideration of politics, social movements, dynamism, diversity of values, social structures, and their changes in society. In particular, we will focus on points such as “violence” and “power”, attempting to trace back to so-called abstract social philosophy.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX212&syllabuslink=1

Course Title	Psychology 1
Instructor	Kondo Ikuyo
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Humans are said to be social animals. We interact with others in various groups and organizations, such as family, friends, in school and in company relationships. And so, in order to get along with others better, which perspectives help us to understand people? In this class, we will introduce “development”, “social” and “clinical” approaches from the fields of psychology, with the aim of cultivating the ability to objectively understand humans.

Course Contents

Psychology is the study that aims to understand human behavior and the psychological processes behind it. In these lectures, we will discuss human developmental processes (interpersonal relationships, personality formation, cognitive development etc.), factors affecting relationships with others and groups, as well as approaches to interpersonal support, and study how to understand and relate to others.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX221&syllabuslink=1

HX222

Course Title	Psychology 2
Instructor	Shiraishi Satoko
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The aim is to acquire basic knowledge of psychology, such as personality and understanding and supporting psychological problems, so that these can be of practical use in daily life.

Course Contents

Learn psychology's view of the personality, that is, "who and how a person is", through the various theories in a variety of fields of psychology. As well as deepening understanding of the various aspects of personality development, and personality bias. In addition, you'll study about familiar psychological problems, together with understanding and support from the findings of clinical psychology.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX222&syllabuslink=1

HX231

Course Title	Geography 1
Instructor	Nakayama Daichi
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The aims of this lecture are to understand the natural environment such as topography, hydrology and climate on the Japanese archipelago, and its relationship with the people living there.

Course Contents

Lectures will cover the interaction between humans and the natural environment surrounding the Japanese Islands, from the local level to the global scale and outer space. Classes will be conducted using visual aids such as PowerPoint and Google Earth. In addition, we will also work in part with maps to deepen understanding.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX231&syllabuslink=1

HX232

Course Title	Geography 2
Instructor	Nakayama Daichi
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

This history of maps will be introduced, and various analytical methods using maps will be studied.

Course Contents

In addition to lectures, we will be working with maps.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX232&syllabuslink=1

HX241

Course Title	Japanese History 1
Instructor	Takaesu Masaya
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

We will equip you with the knowledge to understand the development and characteristics of Japanese society through historical methods, providing an overview of the modern history of Japan, from the end of the Edo period up until the Asia-Pacific War, from the perspective of political diplomatic and popular history.

Course Contents

In this lecture, through following the various processes of "establishment and development", we will chart the flow of complex history, from the end of the Edo period and the Meiji restoration with the various movements forming the modern nation, from the issuance of the empire constitution to the establishment of the imperial constitution system, and the formation of colonial empire through foreign wars.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX241&syllabuslink=1

HX242

Course Title	Japanese History 2
Instructor	Takaesu Masaya
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

With an overview of Japan's modern history since the Asia-Pacific War, from the perspective of political, diplomatic history as well as social history, we will understand why Japan advanced to war, how control and mobilization were constituted, the overall picture of war and its legacy.

Course Contents

In this lecture, we trace the modern history of Japan during the Great Japanese Empire, the process of empire collapse, the expansion policy to mainland China and the collapse of the cooperative relationship with the world powers this triggered, resulting in the rush into the Asia-Pacific War and the subsequent defeat of Japan in the 1930s and '40s. In the second half of the class we deal with issues in the establishment of the post-war society, such as the establishment of a new constitution during the occupation period, the Tokyo trials, and the issue of war monuments and views of war.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX242&syllabuslink=1

HX251

Course Title	World History 1
Instructor	San-o Masayo
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Broadening outlooks on the world, and recognizing that its regions are interconnected.

Course Contents

In this lecture, we will introduce concrete examples showing these various connections between the histories and cultures of the regions and ethnic groups of the world, using textual sources, photographs and video materials.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX251&syllabuslink=1

HX252

Course Title	World History 2
Instructor	Shikano Mie
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Through the history of the British Empire since the modern era, we will study basic knowledge of modern British and imperial history. The content of this lecture is focused on the British Empire, with consideration of the significance of historical findings on life in modern Japan.
Dealing with a wide variety of empires, allows a grasp of details as well as an overview, without being confined to detailed individual cases.

Course Contents

Learning is mainly in the form of lectures on the British Empire since the 18th century. In order to understand the British Empire, it may sometimes be necessary to return to the history of Britain in ancient times, as well as to the middle-ages. Centering on the modern and contemporary history of Britain, examining examples of major colonies, we will study the diverse and multifaceted nature of empire. In addition, we will approach politics, society and economics from multiple angles.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX252&syllabuslink=1

HX260

Course Title	Regional Geography
Instructor	Nakamaki Takashi
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Through Geography of Japan, the course will foster thought, deepening awareness of various past-world and real-world phenomena as we examine Japan's geography.

Course Contents

In class, while acquiring the geographical view and way of thinking, we will explore the regional characteristics formed by the close relationship between natural phenomena (natural conditions), and humanistic phenomena. We will investigate and compare as many case study areas as possible in the Kanto region (Ibaraki, Tochigi, Gunma, Saitama, Chiba, Tokyo, Kanagawa) and in the Koshinetsu region (Yamanashi, Nagano, Niigata). Additionally, there are a large number of case studies for the Kanto region, Tokyo (Edo in the early modern era), but we will also investigate the relationship between Tokyo and Saitama and make comparison.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX260&syllabuslink=1

HX271

Course Title	Introduction to Lifelong Education 1
Instructor	Ogawa Seiko
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Having grasped the fundamental thinking behind lifelong learning in relation to social education, we will fully recognize the concept the of lifelong learning through understanding various learning opportunities.

Course Contents

The term “lifelong learning″ has been widely disseminated and internationally promulgated at the recommendation of UNESCO in 1965. In this class, we will explain the concept of lifelong learning, its social meaning, and provide explanations in relation to social education. In addition, based on the development of lifelong learning in Canada, we will consider Japan’s lifelong learning from a relative perspective. It is important to look at various learning opportunities in order to deepen our concrete understanding of the concept of lifelong learning. This section deals with educational and learning activities in specialized vocational schools, companies, as well as in voluntary activities. Additionally, using PowerPoint, visitor survey records for both overseas and Japan, including images will be introduced in order to deepen general understanding.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX271&syllabuslink=1

HX272

Course Title	Introduction to Lifelong Education 2
Instructor	Ogawa Seiko
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Aiming to deepen understanding of lifelong learning based on social requirements, while assuming basic understanding of the lifelong learning concept.

Course Contents

The concept of lifelong learning consists of two requirements, personal and social. In this class, we aim to deepen the general understanding of the concept of lifelong learning, particularly focusing on the contemporary issues stemming from social requirements. Drawing attention to the specific contemporary issues of the “aging society” and “low birth rate society”, we will consider the issues that require measures in each society. Through these investigations, we endeavor to develop classes that allow students to think about how to live in an “aging society” and a “low birthrate society″.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX272&syllabuslink=1

HX301

Course Title	Career Guidance 1
Instructor	Sasaki Naoki
Semester	Spring Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The aim is for students to face their own past, to examine the present, and paint their own vision for the future. Present day Japan and the world will be understood as the premise of the aim of the course.

Course Contents

A child does not become an adult only by getting old. Becoming an adult does not automatically mean one will start working. What is needed is maturity. Vocational guidance is an educational activity that helps young students to choose their future "path or occupation" autonomously and independently. In order to do so, it is first and foremost necessary to understand the students who are being helped. This course provides understanding of the current situation of children in Japan. At the same time, the aim is for students to understand themselves as support providers. Also, for the course students to consider how they themselves will live in the future.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX301&syllabuslink=1

HX302

Course Title	Career Guidance 2
Instructor	Sasaki Naoki
Semester	Spring Others	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The aim is each student to acquire the practical instruction skills to develop the motivation, attitude, and abilities necessary to achieve the career appropriate to each student.

Course Contents

Vocational guidance is an educational activity that asks students, “how do you want to lead your life?”.
It is an educational activity that helps students to choose their own future “path or occupation” independently and autonomously. In school education, it is said to be “course guidance” and is an educational activity that makes students examine their own “way of life”, or “how things are”. In this course, students will acquire practical instruction skills in career guidance through understanding career education.

Others

※Please refer to the ″Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System″ for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX302&syllabuslink=1

HX311

Course Title	Commercial Law 1
Instructor	Ishikawa Mai
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

Understand the company structure and its legal regulation.
Understand the particularities of each system and be able to explain its outlines.

Course Contents

This lecture will focus on Companies law, especially Stock companies law. Stock companies are playing an important role in the actual economy and society, and it is more than necessary to have knowledge about the companies' structure and its regulation. We will also talk about topics such as corporate governance, board members' compensation, shareholder's derivative suit, hostile takeovers, independent officers.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX311&syllabuslink=1

HX312

Course Title	Commercial Law 2
Instructor	Ishikawa Mai
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	--------	Language	※

Course Objectives

The objective of this course is to deepen the understanding of commercial law basics and its fundamental notions.

Course Contents

The lecture will cover the basics of commercial law.
Commercial law regulates business transactions. These rules have been formed taking into account many particularities proper to commercial law and business situations and are fundamentally different from civil law rules. The lectures will focus on the reasons of these differences to have a better understanding of the commercial law particularities.
We will also have an overview of the recent 2018 amendment of the Commercial Code.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX312&syllabuslink=1

HX315

Course Title	Physical Geography
Instructor	Nakayama Daichi
Semester	Fall Semester	Credit	2 Credits
Course Number	-------	Language	※

Course Objectives

In order to understand the global environment and human activity, the aim is to acquire basic knowledge of important thought regarding physical geography.

Course Contents

Through introductions to interaction of the global environment and human activity, students will acquire basic knowledge of physical geography, studying the Earth we live on.

Others

※Please refer to the "Syllabus & Class Schedule Search System" for details including course schedule, evaluations, textbooks and others.
<URL>
https://sy.rikkyo.ac.jp/timetable/slbssbdr.do?clearAccessData=true&risyunen=2020&semekikn=1&kougicd=HX315&syllabuslink=1

RIKKYO UNIVERSITY
MDCCCLXXIV