授業の目標 (Course Objectives)

By emphasizing reading, discussing, and critical thinking skills, this course helps students build the foundation for a deeper understanding of theory and methods in the social sciences. Students will be empowered an eye to consider what happens in daily life with evidence-based reasoning. This course is not designed to provide students stereotypes of thinking but inspire you to think with your talents, interests, and passion. Students will have plenty of time expressing their own opinions and exchanging ideas with peers and instructor.

授業の内容 (Course Contents)

Sociology is a discipline analyzing issues in society. This course introduces students to some major social theories and concepts in sociology. Topics include a review of sociology as a discipline, culture, socialization, social interaction, education, social stratification, networks, work, economic life, body and health, urbanization, population, environment, and globalization. It is a theory-oriented course. However, it addresses empirical questions such as (1) What is society? (2) How is society organized and structured? (3) Who are individuals and their roles in society? (4) How do individuals and society affect each other? The goal of this course is to provide students with conceptual tools for understanding society, thereby some inspirations of how individuals may live meaningful life.
