授業の目標 (Course Objectives)

This class aims to develop your understanding of the basic concepts of ODR (online dispute resolution)

授業の内容 (Course Contents)

ODR (Online dispute resolution) is the use of information and communications technology to help disputants find a resolution to their disputes. With the digitalization of society and the limitation of face-to-face communication, it is expected to be a new approach to dispute resolution. In this class, we will learn about the global discussion of ODR and examples of social implementation. Then we will learn about the current policy development of ODR in Japan. In the second half of the semester, students will have the opportunity to participate in online mediation using the ODR platform and VR devices.
